Les mines de Baburet (Les Eschartès)

This loop takes you back to the time when iron ore was mined in Eschartès, a neighbourhood of the Louvie-Soubiron municipality located 6 hours' walk from the village! A journey full of fascinating information about the history of this mine, which was shut down in 1962.

D Cross the bridge in front of the church in Ferrières. On the left bank of the Gave l'Ouzom, you are already in the Eschartès area, in the town of Louvie-Soubiron. Turn left onto the road that climbs to the Eschartès cemetery and then to the place called "Panorama du chêne". Enjoy the view.

Oh35 2 722662 E – 4765723 N Go back down the same path and then take the path on the left. After a barn, take a short diversion to the second gallery, known as the "La poudrière". Continue along the path for about 100 metres.

Oh50 3 722792 E – 4765723 N At the signpost, go down to the right and back on a fairly steep path that leads to Gallery 620. Once you have come back up, take the path to the right. It gradually descends to a small road.

Ih15 4 723204 E – 4766017 N Turn right and walk down the road back to the village. Stop at the last Gallery (556) before returning to the starting point.

D Village of Ferrières (between Arthez Asson and the Col du Soulor), on the church square.

The mines

The circuit is dotted with panels devoted to the iron mines and the themes associated with them: the miners, the forests, the galleries (closed to the public but you can look at the entrance), their former uses and...their current habitat (they are home to colonies of bats) or the railway line which enabled the ore to be transported to the station at Coarraze-Nay.

Take the time to read through these extremely informative panels! They will help you to understand how this small area developed around a deposit that was mined out over 50 years ago.

★ Don't miss:

- The entrances to the mine galleries are all marked with information panels.
